Introductory Balance Transfer Terms. You may request up to three (3) balance transfers at the introductory balance transfer APR. The introductory balance transfer APR will apply for the first SiX (6) billing cycles from account opening to balance transfers requested within 30 days of account opening. The balance transfer transaction fee will be charged for all balance transfers. Each balance transfer will reduce your available credit. Please allow up to three (3) weeks for your balance transfer request(s) to be processed, and you will need to continue to make payments to your accounts with other institutions to keep them current until you have confirmed that the balance transfers have occurred. Balance transfers cannot be used to pay loan or credit card accounts at Valley National Bank, or any of its affiliates. We may decline to process any full or partial balance transfer request if the balance transfer and any related fees and finance charges would increase your account balance beyond your available credit limit. There is no grace period on balance transfers. If you fail to make a payment to Valley National Bank when due, we may terminate the introductory balance transfer APR and increase the APR on your account to the Penalty APR.

Payment Allocation. If your account has balances with different APRs, the amount of your payment equal to the minimum payment due will be applied to the balance with the lowest APR before any payments are applied to balances with higher APRs. Any amount of your payment that is greater than the minimum payment due will be applied to the balance with the highest APR before being applied to balances with lower APRs. Payments received by 5 p.m. local time at our payment processing facility will be credited as of that day to your account.
